

What are the three approaches to valuation?

A well-supported opinion of property value is developed through the valuation process, with specific appraisal procedures that reflect three distinct methods of data analysis: Cost Approach, Sales Comparison Approach, and Income Capitalization Approach.